Proudly supporting Maggie's in Southampton

Maggie's in Southampton

Gardens and gardening as well as being enjoyable, can be good for you. Studies have shown that gardening improves general health, and can help reduce both stress and anxiety. It can refocus attention when we feel overwhelmed, boost mood and improve balance.

'Home from Home' takes inspiration from Maggie's recognition that the space around us (whether inside or out) creates an environment which helps people to find the emotional space they need. The planting you see engages all the senses, encouraging calmness and contemplation with different viewpoints and areas of interest.

Maggie's in Southampton provides free emotional and practical support for people with cancer and their families and friends. The centre is a warm and welcoming place, with professional staff on hand to offer the support people need to find their way through cancer.

Maggie's relies on voluntary donations from the local community so that the Cancer Support Specialists, Psychologists and other specialist staff can provide this support all year round for free.

Garden features

Gothic style windows

A series of windows represent the various starting points after a cancer diagnosis. Stained-glass has provided beauty and inspiration throughout history and continuing to the present day, as we celebrate the United Nations Year of Glass in 2022.

Dominic Welch sculpture – Rising Form

Dominic's purity of form invokes natural harmonies that calm the senses and spark the imagination. The subtle curves belie the hard, stubborn stone beneath.

RHS Plant of the Year 2022 Entries

Forsythia × intermedia JOHN MITCHELL ('Discovery')

This cultivar was found as a branch sport in the garden of the late John Mitchell, who, after being diagnosed with dementia, sadly died in 2013. Having served in the merchant navy, John's love was the sea with one of his last ships being RV 'Discovery'.

Geranium pratense 'Storm Cloud'

This disease resistant and temperature tolerant cultivar has been developed by Helen Warrington at Ty Cwm Nursery in Wales; this provenance ensures it is perfectly suited to UK gardens.
